Unlocking the Facts

FIND OUT MORE!

Knowing your way around The World Almanac is important if you want to find information quickly. There are four guides you can use to find information.

- The Quick Thumb Index on the back cover is most useful when you are looking for a large section, such as Sports. Use this index by moving your thumb from the topic on the back cover to its matching black-edged pages and open the book.
- The Contents on page 3 of the almanac lets you know what general topics are covered in the almanac (in the order they appear). It is most useful when you are looking for general information or want to browse a certain topic.
- The Quick Reference Index on the last page (1008) has many more specific topics—such as Academy Awards or Presidential Elections—arranged in alphabetical order.
- The General Index starting on page 980 is the most detailed of all, with 28 pages of topics and subtopics covered in the almanac. It is most useful for finding specific information, such as the languages spoken in Switzerland.

Where would you look for the following information?
First check the Quick Reference Index. If you don’t find what you’re looking for, go to the General Index. When you’ve found the answer to each question, write the page number and topic that led to the answer and the index you used. If the information is not found in the General Index under the first topic you check, then you’ll need to look for related topics or subtopics. Sometimes you may have to look in several different places in the index to find what you need.
